The Philippine PPP Program
Developing a PPP Program

1. Clarity of roles of each institution involved in the delivery of PPPs;

2. A central agency that will advocate the program and ensure that all of agencies of the government are working in sync;

3. A solid policy framework and practices that define the rules of engagement in dealing with the private sector;

4. An independent collective governing body to set the direction of the program;

5. An effective and efficient mechanism by which government can procure advisers/consultants to prepare projects.

What they say about the Program

"The Philippines moves up to join the developed group of countries in this study (it was classified as an emerging country in the 2011 study). By finishing in seventh position, it is among those which have improved the most. It recorded the most improved regulatory and institutional frameworks and is one of the leading countries in the study for improved investment climate and financial facilities."
